Listening Scripts

Revision on Unit (4)

Listening script 1

In the past, traveling between cities in Egypt was slow because roads were narrow and often crowded. Transporting goods took a long time. In recent years, engineers have built modern highways, bridges, and tunnels to connect all parts of the country. These projects help improve daily life and make travel easier. The new road networks in Alexandria and the updated bridges in Cairo show how Egypt continues to grow and develop.

Listening script 2

Years ago, life in Egypt was very simple. Most people worked on farms or small local jobs, and factories were rare in villages. Many products had to be imported from other countries, and transportation was slow. Today, Egypt has grown into a strong industrial country. Cities like Mahalla produce textiles, the food industry makes pasta, juice, and snacks, and the steel industry helps build roads, bridges, and houses.

Test on Units (4)

In Egypt, many new infrastructure projects are helping people and businesses every day. Engineers are building highways, tunnels, and bridges to make transportation faster and safer for people and goods. Every year, the road network grows with new innovations. Reliable power supplies support these projects and help cities run smoothly. The New Administrative Capital shows how planning and investment can improve daily life. Modern infrastructure helps people travel, work, and live better while preparing Egypt for the future.

Revision on Unit (5)

Listening script 1

Attention, travelers. You are riding the Cairo Metro on Line 3, the Green Line, going to Giza Station. The metro is now faster and cleaner than before. Trains have smart doors and digital screens that show stations and time. Passengers hear clear announcements in Arabic and English. At stations, ticket machines, elevators, and escalators make travel easy for everyone every day. It helps people travel safely across the city.

Listening script 2

In Egypt, modern transport is improving daily travel. New systems in Cairo and Giza are making journeys faster and cleaner. The monorail runs above the ground and connects important places quickly. At stations, passengers find ticket machines and digital screens. Electric buses use clean energy and produce no smoke. Travelers must follow rules, buy tickets, and avoid blocking doors to ensure safe and easy trips for everyone.

Hi Lina,

I read about Egypt's new industries recently. I visited a modern textile factory that produces clothes and fabrics sold across the country and abroad. These industries make Egypt stronger and more independent. It is amazing to see how engineers use modern machines and clean energy to help the country grow. I hope one day you can visit and see them too!

Subject: Egypt's future transportation

Dear Ahmed,

I want to tell you about my vision for Egypt's future transportation. I think we will have more monorails and self-driving buses. These will be better for the environment because they use renewable energy like solar power. This will reduce pollution and make our air cleaner. It is a very exciting future!

Best wishes,

Mohamed Said

Passage 20:

Cactus plants are amazing survivors because they live in the dry desert. They have special ways to save water. Instead of thin leaves, they have thick stems that store water for a long time. Cacti also have sharp spines to protect them from hungry animals. Their roots are usually close to the surface so they can catch even a little bit of rain. They can live for many months without any water. These plants are very tough and can grow in very hot weather.

A. Choose the correct answer:

1. Cactus plants store water in their ".....".

29. What is the New Administrative capital like?
30. Did ancient Egyptians wear jewelry?

Write a text of FOURTY (40) words using the words below:

1. Write a paragraph about "The Monorail in Egypt".

Guiding elements: (fast and comfortable / clean energy)

The monorail is a fantastic new way to travel around Egypt. It is very fast and comfortable for all passengers. This modern train runs on electricity, which means it uses clean energy and does not cause any pollution to our air. It travels high above the city streets on a single track. Many people like using it because it saves a lot of time during the busy day. It connects different parts of the city and makes our life much easier and better.

2. Write an informal email to your friend Ali telling him about your visit to Marsa Alam.

Guiding elements: (What did you see there? / eco-lodges)

Dear Ali, How are you? I want to tell you about my wonderful trip to Marsa Alam. It is a great place for ecotourism. I stayed in a traditional eco-lodge made of natural materials. I went diving in the Red Sea and saw amazing coral reefs and colorful fish. I also saw a rare dugong swimming in the water. I really enjoyed my holiday because it was quiet and peaceful. I hope you can come with me next time. Best wishes, Ahmed

3. Write a biography of "King Khufu".

Guiding elements: (Who was he? / the Great Pyramid)

King Khufu was one of the most powerful and famous pharaohs in ancient Egypt. He ruled thousands of years ago during the Old Kingdom. He is best known because he built the Great Pyramid of Giza. This massive stone monument is one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. Thousands of skilled workers worked for many years to construct it using heavy stone blocks. Today, millions of tourists visit Egypt every year to see his amazing pyramid.

4. Write a story about "A Green Day at School".

Guiding elements: (planting trees / recycling project)

Last Tuesday, our school organized a special green day to help our local environment. All the students participated in planting many small trees in the garden behind the playground. We also started a big recycling project for plastic bottles and old paper. Our teacher told us that trees give us oxygen and keep the air fresh and clean. We felt very happy because we worked together as one team to make our school a more beautiful and healthy place for everyone.

5. Write a paragraph about "The Importance of Trees".

Guiding elements: (oxygen / clean air)

Trees are very vital for our planet because they act like the Earth's lungs. They take in carbon dioxide and give out oxygen, which is essential for all humans and animals to breathe. Forests are also home to thousands of different species of wildlife. We should plant more trees and stop cutting down forests so that we can keep our air clean and our environment healthy. They also provide us with shade and wood for many things.

6. Write an informal email to your friend Hany about "Healthy Habits".

Guiding elements: (What should we eat? / enough sleep)

Dear Hany, I hope you are doing well. I am writing to tell you about some healthy habits to stay fit. We should eat a balanced diet with plenty of fruits and vegetables. It is also important to drink a lot of water every day. You should get enough sleep, about nine hours, to let your body and brain rest. Playing sports and exercising regularly are also very good for your heart. Stay healthy and take care of yourself! Your friend, Ahmed

7. Write a paragraph about "Ancient Egyptian Scribes".

Guiding elements: (hieroglyphs / papyrus)

Scribes were very important and respected people in ancient Egypt. They were the only ones who knew how to read and write perfectly. They spent many years at school learning hieroglyphs, which was a complex system of pictures. They wrote down important information and records on papyrus scrolls using brushes and ink. Their work was essential for the pharaoh and the temples. Thanks to their records, we know a lot about history and life in the past today.

8. Write a story about "My Trip to the Grand Egyptian Museum".

Guiding elements: (Where is it? / What can you see?)

Last month, I went on an exciting trip to the Grand Egyptian Museum. It is located in Giza, very near the pyramids. The building is massive and looks very modern. Inside, I saw many amazing statues and the golden treasures of King Tutankhamun. I learned a lot about our glorious history from the friendly tour guide. It was an unforgettable day because I saw how great our ancestors were. I took many photos to show my friends at school.

9. Write a biography of "Sir Magdi Yacoub".

Guiding elements: (Who is he? / What did he do?)

Sir Magdi Yacoub is a very famous Egyptian heart surgeon. He was born in Belbeis and studied medicine in Cairo. He moved to London and became one of the best doctors in the world. He started a special heart foundation in Aswan to help sick children for free. He is a very kind and hard-working man who has saved thousands of lives. Many people admire him because he helps others and loves his country very much.

10. Write a paragraph about "Green Buildings in Egypt".

Guiding elements: (solar panels / gardens on walls)

Green buildings are a smart way to protect our environment in Egypt. These buildings use modern technology to save energy and water. They often have solar panels on the roofs to produce clean electricity from the sun. Some green buildings have beautiful gardens on the walls to keep the air fresh and cool. They also have large windows to let in natural sunlight during the day. This makes our cities much cleaner, healthier, and more beautiful for the future.
